

PRINTING PDF DOCUMENTS

February 16 - We have had a few comments lately about a problem printing some of the PDF documents on our website. Members have said the documents look fine on their monitors, but when printing them out, some of the characters get "garbled" and impossible to read.

After doing some testing, it seems like some of the browsers we use to access the internet, such as Edge, Google Chrome, Firefox, Internet Explorer, Safari, etc) handle the printing of PDF files differently.

The solution to this problem, if it happens to you, is to DOWNLOAD the PDF to your computer and THEN open and print it with Adobe Reader or similar program. Or you can simply try using a different browser.
