Hello Dave

I'm sorry for the late response and delay which was due to some constrain on board..I'm a Marine engineer from Alpharetta GA and 'm off shore presently..Your asking $11000 is fair which i will like to make an initial deposit so you can be sure i'm very much interested..I shall contact an agency to come over and inspect since i'm off-shore as i do not know its present condition before i can send your balance..

As for the deposit payment,my preferred is a US cashiers check..its guaranteed and shall be easily cashed..Being off-shore,the agency owns the balance to the deposit check so you keep $1200 for the deposit,the fund left on the check is for the agency you send it out so that they can be in your location for inspection cos they making other vital inspections and deliveries for me..

You provide me your full name,address and phone # so that the check can be mailed to you..

I shall be back in 3 weeks,but then my regiment will be deployed to Iraq and I think I shall stay there for a while.

You would have all your money in your hand after inspection is completed before title is released and shipped okay..I'll give you a call once i get onshore like wise the agent so that all arrangement could be intact..The best way to contact me is via email as I'm always running around with things..
